Product description:

Protect delicate facial skin from cold, harsh weather

Weleda Calendula Weather Protection Cream is a rich, water-free balm for babies, as well as the whole family. When the cold weather bites, it provides intensive protection against drying winds and cold, harsh weather. With fair trade beeswax and high purity, hypoallergenic lanolin, it forms a natural protective barrier to nourish dry skin and keep it healthy. Unlike mineral oil-based petroleum jelly, Calendula Weather Protection Cream will not block the skin's ability to breathe and function normally.

Free of petroleum-derived ingredients, parabens, phthalates, and never tested on animals. This balm can also be used as lip balm, cuticle cream or as an alternative to petroleum jelly.
