Product description:

Relieve irritation from diaper rash and prevent new rashes from forming

Our best-selling Weleda Calendula Diaper Rash Cream provides fast yet gentle relief and treatment of diaper rash. Rich and creamy, it's a natural, soothing barrier cream formulated with non-nano, pharmaceutical-grade zinc oxide to take nurturing care of irritation and rashes and protect your baby's skin.

Organic, anti-inflammatory calendula extract, from flowers grown in Weleda's own Biodynamic® gardens in Germany, helps soothe redness and inflammation. Instead of mineral oil found in most diaper rash creams, Weleda uses fair trade beeswax, which provides a breathable layer of protection to your baby's bottom. Skin-friendly sweet almond and sesame seed oils help keep skin healthy with vitamins and essential fatty acids.

Dermatologist-tested and safe for most baby skin, even sensitive. Not tested on animals. Free of synthetic preservatives, fragrances and petroleum-derived raw materials.

Tips from Gabi Köberl:

Clean your baby's bottom with a damp towel or tissue and Calendula Lotion or Oil. Afterwards, apply a generous amount of Calendula Diaper Care and rub it in to create a protective layer between the sore bottom and any excess moisture. If your child has a very red and sore rash, it may be best to use Calendula Diaper Care each time you change the diaper. Once the skin has calmed, you can switch to using Calendula Baby Cream for the daily care of your baby's bottom.
