Product description:

Anti-age protection against environmental influences.

Environmental influences on the skin cannot be completely avoided. Our body is mainly protected by our clothes, whereas the more sensitive facial skin needs further protection. We love to show how young we feel. Our Re-active face cream No.44 was developed to reduce dry skin and the effects of environmental influences on our face.

Guggul, an extract of Indian myrrh is a vegetable alternative to Q10. Ectoin additionally moisturizes the skin and protects it against environmental influences. The active ingredient squalane has a normalising effect. Together with our lacto-intensive active complex, facial skin is protected during the day and can regenerate at night. You will feel better and younger.
