

Shampoo Lavender Sensitive

Manufacturer: Khadi
Order ID: Kh8227
Price: 15.90 €

Product description:

Feel balanced: Balance, relief, and gentle care for sensitive scalp and hair.

The khadi Lavender Sensitive Ayurvedic Elixir Shampoo gently cleanses sensitive hair and calms irritated scalp. The secret behind the gentle and mild care is the khadi Lavender Sensitive Elixir. This Ayurvedic plant extract combines the individual effects of hand-picked Indian medicinal plants into a whole and multiplies their powers. The khadi Lavender Sensitive Elixir is the result of gently infused herbs over an open fire in a traditional process according to ancient Ayurvedic formulas.

As soon as you start washing your hair you will notice how your sensitive scalp is being calmed and your fine hair is soothed from inside out. In Ayurveda, Lavender is known for its gentle calming effect. It is traditionally used together with Anantmool – also called sarsaparilla – as a treatment for various skin diseases. The combined ingredients will balance and calm your stressed scalp. While Palasa extract and hibiscus gently protect fine, sensitive hair with minerals and nourishing vitamins, Aloe Vera and Ratanjot moisturize your skin.

Similar to your hair and scalp, the khadi Lavender Sensitive Ayurvedic Elixir Shampoo has a pH value of 4.0 to 5.0. The pH of your scalp is brought back into balance in a natural way. If you color your hair naturally, such as with khadi natural hair color, we recommend using the 3-step ritual to effectively prepare for the khadi Lavender Sensitive Elixir Shampoo. This noticeably helps to protect the intensity of the color.

Ingredients:

Aqua, Coco-Glucoside, Glycerin, Caprylyl/Capryl Glucoside, Lauryl Glucoside, Erythritol, Sodium Pca, Citric Acid, Sodium Citrate, Oryza Sativa Bran Oil*, Xanthan Gum, Butea Frondosa Flower Extract*, Hemidesmus Indicus Root Extract*, Hibiscus Sabdariffa Flower Extract*, Lavandula Angustifolia Flower Oil, Sodium Gluconate, Glyceryl Oleate, Alkanna Tinctoria Root Extract*, Aloe Barbadensis Leaf Extract*, Emblica Officinalis Fruit Extract*, Pterocarpus Marsupium Bark/Wood Extract*, Sodium Lactate, Sodium Levulinate, Disodium Cocoyl Glutamate, Linalool, Acacia Concinna Fruit Extract*, Sapindus Mukurossi Fruit Extract*, Guar Hydroxypropyltrimonium Chloride, Hydrolyzed Wheat Protein, Zinc Pca, Potassium Sorbate, Azadirachta Indica Seed Oil*, Sodium Cocoyl Glutamate, Sodium Benzoate, Tocopherol, Hydrogenated Palm Glycerides Citrate, Lecithin, Ascorbyl Palmitate.

*from natural organic oils components of natural essential oils

Tips from Gabi Köberl:

How to get the most out of the khadi Lavender Sensitive Elixir Shampoo:

Put the amount of shampoo appropriate for your hair length into your hands and lather with water.

Apply the silky foam to your scalp for calming, and then work it down the lengths of your hair for nourishing care.

You can also leave the Lavender Sensitive Shampoo on for a moment to let it fully unfold its calming effect.

Then thoroughly rinse the Lavender Sensitive Shampoo with warm water.

Use the khadi Application Bottle to optimally dose the Lavender Sensitive Elixir Shampoo. This ensures that you use the right amount while lathering it up for you at the same time. Using the Application Bottle saves shampoo and water and allows the magical khadi Elixir to work optimally for your hair.

Hair cleaning in Ayurveda: What is considered a daily necessity in the Western world has a higher purpose in Ayurvedic philosophy. Hair washing is part of a holistic ceremony in which the aura and physical body are not only cleansed, but also freed from external energies. With the Ayurvedic khadi Elixir you bring your body, spirit, and soul back into harmony with every wash.