The authentic Ayurvedic formula of Rose Love Body Oil combines the indulgent perfection of rose, turmeric, and red sandalwood to their full effect. The result is rich rejuvenation for your skin and your entire aura. Revel in your wonderfully refreshed, smooth, and refined complexion.

The secret to this regenerative effect is khadi Rose Love Elixir: khadi Elixir is prepared according to ancient Ayurvedic formulas using a traditional practice that involves gently simmering hand-picked Indian medicinal herbs over an open fire. Ayurvedic plant extracts prepared in this way (medicinal decoction) combine the full potential and unique essence of the individual plants to create a harmonious whole.

Rose is consummate beauty! For millennia, it has been known as the queen of flowers. The essential oil extracted from roses contains more than one hundred active ingredients. Rose hydrates and soothes your skin and strengthens the connective tissue. Rose is also a symbol of your unconditional love for yourself, and your oneness with creation.

Turmeric has a subtle cleansing effect, anti-oxidant properties, and regenerates deep into the skin cells. Your skin takes on a gorgeous natural glow.

Red sandalwood is India's most important essence and represents endless vitality; it nourishes and rejuvenates.

Geranium brings joy, regenerates the skin cells, and soothes itchy skin and eczema. Its fragrance is similar to rose, and its mellow aura complements rose's softness.

Listen to your skin when it sings to you! Rose Love Beauty Oil is wonderfully, deeply nourishing as it beads on your skin and enfolds you in its luxurious rosy fragrance. Even as you start to massage the oil onto your body, you will feel your skin being pampered and rejuvenated as your senses awaken. Discover the melodious Rose Love application ritual that strengthens the effect of Rose Love here. Let khadi join you on your journey as you indulge in the complete perfection of rose.
